

Day 203

As you can imagine, I get a lot of interesting email in addition to the usual "How do you get your ideas?" type.

Today one came from a college senior who tells me he has read THE GIVER 30+ times, and that he is currently midway through a project of taking a self-portrait every day. He sent me the link to Day 203 out of 365, because it involves THE GIVER.

Fun to look at! I'll attach it so you can see it (click to enlarge), but to read the accompanying text you'll need to go to:
